DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, drawn to a method of mapping a network of functional gene interactions relating to Alzheimer's disease, classified in classes 800, 800, and 435 subclasses 13, 22, and 455.
- II. Claims 22-29, drawn to a method for identifying a therapeutic agent for treating Alzheimer's disease, classified in class 800, subclass 3.

III-XXXXXXV.

Claims 30-33, each group drawn to the nucleotide sequences set forth in SEQ ID NOs 1-63 respectively, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.

XXXXXXVI-XXXXXXXXXII

Claims 30-33, each group drawn to the nucleotide sequences set forth in SEQ ID NOs 64-80 respectively, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.

Art Unit: 1632

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation, different functions, and different effects and thus different uses. The method of Group I can be used to identify a gene. The method of Group II can be used to screen for therapeutic agents. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and separate search requirement, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Inventions III-XXXXXXXV and XXXXXXVI-XXXXXXXXXII are unrelated each from the other. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different functions and different effects. The nucleotide sequences of Groups III-XXXXXXXXXII have different chemical structures and without evidence to the contrary cannot be used together. Upon election of a single nucleotide sequence from SEQ ID NOs: 1-80 the appropriate claims will be examined with respect to the elected sequence. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and separate search requirement, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Inventions I-II and III-XXXXXXXXXII are unrelated each from the other. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation, different functions, and different effects and thus have different uses. The methods of Groups I-II can be practiced with different products from the nucleotide sequences of Groups III-XXXXXXXXXII. The nucleotide sequences of Groups III-XXXXXXXXXII can be used in materially different methods that require different technical considerations from the methods of Groups I-II. For example, the nucleotide sequence of Groups III can be used to transform a somatic cell in vitro or in a hybridization assay in vitro while the method of Group II can be used to identify a therapeutic agent. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and separate search requirement, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
